Dry Weather Hurts Pheasant and Duck Hunting In Antioch Area; Hunters Have Varied Success

The pheasant season opened at noon Sunday and the sloughs over Lake county were full of hunters. Deployed in lines at the zero hour the red-capped men with guns appeared like an invading army.

As to the number of pheasants killed, reports vary, but on the whole, the bag was poorer this year than last.

Mayor James McMillen said that the dryness of the sloughs made it difficult for dogs to detect the birds and flush them up.

"Just let us have a rain or heavy dew and there will be better results," he commented.

Chicago hunters said they believed the pheasants had been reading the law and know that as long

First Church of Christ, Scientist Plans Service For Thanksgiving Day

A special Thanksgiving Service to which the public is invited will be held by First Church of Christ, Scientist, at 11 a. m. on Thanksgiving Day, it was announced by local representatives.

A portion of the service will be devoted to expressions of gratitude by Christian Scientists for God's goodness as shown in spiritual growth, healings and other blessings.

Other features of the service will include reading the proclamation of the President of the United States and selections on the subject of praise and thanksgiving from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

The Lesson-Sermon emphasizes that blessings follow living a life of thankfulness to God. One of the passages from the Bible will be: "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing unto Thy name, O most High," (Ps. 92:1), and one of the selections from the Christian Science textbook will be: "God is not moved by the breath of praise to do more than He has already done, nor can the infinite do less than bestow all good, since He is unchanging wisdom and Love" (2:8-11).

The board of Education will present building plans for a new school at a meeting of the Antioch Grade School Parent-Teacher Association at 8 p. m. Monday in the school gymnasium.

At a meeting of the board Tuesday evening, Gilbert A. Johnson of Rockford was chosen as the architect to draw up plans which will be presented to the people for their consideration.

The board members, Norman Jedele, president; Mrs. James Kopriva, secretary; Charles Wertz, Harold Cardiff, Mrs. Joseph Patrovsky, Robert Lindblad, and Wendell Nelson will discuss the building program and answer questions.

Need of additional classroom space became evident this year when it became necessary to use the Scout House for kindergarten classes, Oakland school for a section of fourth graders and all of the original school building which is obsolete.

The enrollment is 631, according to Supt. Richard Whitacre, and the number can be expected to climb next year.

The present building, already enlarged twice, has reached a limit so far as any addition is concerned and a new building must be erected. The site has not been chosen, but an effort will be made to place it nearest the largest number of pupils.

Johnson, the architect, has designed the East and West grade school buildings at Rockford and the new school at Hebron.

Refreshments at Monday night's meeting will be served by sixth grade room mothers, Mrs. Arthur Fortmann and Mrs. Albert Weighart.

MORE LIVESTOCK WILL BE NEEDED

The following is from a Wall Street Journal news column: "To feed 1975's bigger, more prosperous population, federal prophets say, the nation will need 33 per cent more livestock and livestock products and 22 per cent more crops. The experts figure farmers will have to produce one-third more cattle, two-fifths more hogs, one-fourth more milk, two-fifths more eggs and chickens."

This is good news for livestock people, as well as the producers of the other farm products which will be in stronger demand. Also, of course, it presents a challenge. Meat production, particularly, must be planned on a long term basis. Nature has her implacable laws, and you can't materially increase livestock herds in a hurry.

But every precedent indicates that U. S. agriculture will produce all the steers, hogs and other meat animals that the country can use. They always have—and in periods when both total and per capita demand have increased sharply. There are good reasons why that should be so.

For one thing, meat animals provide farmers with their largest single source of cash income. For another, there is an established market for these animals that operates every business day of the year—prices vary, naturally, but the market is always there. Most important of all, livestock production isn't subjected to government restrictions as are subsidized crops. It is conducted within the framework of our free enterprise system—and individual producers, not the bureaucrats, have the power of decision. That works to the long-range advantage of everyone concerned—all the way from the farm and ranch to the nation's dining tables.

TRANSFORMATION

Does communism work to the advantage of the "common man" and the masses of people?

If you have doubts as to the answer, some statements made by Edward Crankshaw, one of the few real Western authorities on Russia, in his new book, "Russia Without Stalin: The Emerging pattern," should be illuminating.

He says: "The Soviet Union today offers contrasts of luxurious living and privation as great as anywhere in the world."

In another place he writes: "The trade unions were steadily transformed from protectors of the interests of workers in face of the state to protectors of the interests of the state in face of the workers."

For selfish reasons, if none other, workers should be among the most aggressive opponents of communism or any other form of super, all-powerful government. This kind of government inevitably destroys free labor just as it destroys free enterprise.

THE TAX STORY

If the public could only know and understand the tax story, it would support the tax-paying private utility companies at every opportunity. That is the view of Kinsey M. Robinson, president of the Washington Power Company. And he went on to tell a part of that story.

The eleven private utilities operating in the four Northwest states of Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon pay taxes to 285 counties, 671 towns and 2,287 school districts, in addition to state and federal levies. Their 1955 tax bill was over $59,000,000—which works out to $161,000 a day, or $6,737 an hour for every hour of the whole year. These taxes would pay for a new school classroom every 2½ hours if all the money were used for that purpose.

Then Mr. Robinson drew a compelling comparison. Washington State contains a number of Public Utility Districts (PUD's) which are free from some taxes. Last year these PUD's paid an average of $12.25 in taxes for each of their customers. By contrast, the three private utilities operating in Washington paid $39.55 per customer—more than three times as much—of which federal taxes accounted for $22.15 and other taxes $17.40. He added: "The difference between the taxes paid by PUD's and the taxes paid by private utilities is $27.30 per customer and you have to remember that in many, many cases, in spite of this much higher tax burden, the rates of private utilities are lower than, or at least as low as are the rates of PUD's."

In every part of the country utilities are among the biggest and most dependable taxpayers. Government systems—whether local or national in nature—are, by contrast, tax eaters. Which do you prefer?

A FREIGHTER GOES AGROUND

A short time ago a freighter named the Seagate went aground on the Washington coast. And this led the Portland, Oregon, Journal to print an editorial highlighting some of the differences between U. S. Merchant ships and their foreign competitors.

The Seagate was a Greek-owned ship and had a Liberian registry. She carried a crew of 28 men—which is about 20 fewer than an American flag ship of the same type would carry. Her wage levels were much lower. She was not insured by Lloyd's or American marine underwriters—because, the Journal says, "Those insurers of ships and cargoes have learned that many Liberian registered ships involve too much risk for normal rates."

The Seagate also lacked navigational equipment of the latest type and is said to have been 80 miles off course. To quote the Journal once more, "Better navigating would cost more money—another reason why the cost of keeping the American merchant fleet on the high seas is greater than for vessels such as the Seagate."

That cost difference is felt, and felt heavily, in everything that has to do with our merchant marine—from building, fitting and maintaining the vessels to wages and working and living conditions for the men who man them. This is why the American government has wisely adopted laws and policies designed to keep our flag flying on the seaways of the world—to serve our commerce and to support the national defense.

coverage with insurance supervisory authorities in many states on behalf of its member and subscribed companies, William Leslie, general manager of the Bureau, stated. In states where approval of insurance supervisory authorities is required it has been filed for approval, he said. The proposed effective date of the "family protection coverage," as the new insurance is called, is December 12, subject to approval by state insurance departments.

"Under the new coverage the company agrees to pay all sums which the insured shall be legally entitled to recover as damages from the owner or operator of an uninsured automobile because of bodily injury caused by accident," Mr.

Leslie stated. "Coverage will apply even when the injury occurs while the insured is not occupying an automobile as, for example, if struck by an uninsured car while walking or bicycling. A 'hit-and-run' car will be regarded as an uninsured car, and coverage will apply where neither the owner nor the operator of the 'hit-and-run' car can be ascertained.

"Included as insureds are the named insured as stated in the policy and, while residents of the same household, the husband or wife of the named insured and their relatives. Guests are also included under the coverage while occupying an automobile operated by the named insured or spouse.

"The new coverage will be available to owners of private passenger cars that are eligible for insurance under the 'family automobile policy', which is a contract designed exclusively for insuring private passenger cars owned by individuals or by husband and wife. The new family protection coverage will be afforded at low cost by enforcement of the automobile liability insurance policy.

"It will be issued for limits of liability corresponding to those specified in the financial responsibility law of the individual state. Higher limits will not be available."

Mr. Leslie said that a similar form of family protection coverage for families not owning automobiles will be made available at the earliest possible date by means of a separate policy wherever permissible under state insurance laws.

Men of St. Ignatius Church Remodel and Redecorate Building

The Parish Church of St. Ignatius of Antioch was completely remodeled and redecorated during a week of concentrated effort which began on October 28.

The entire east and side walls of the sanctuary were paneled with pecky cypress. The walls of the nave were painted in sandalwood.

Members of the work crews were: Marvin Heath, William Brook, George Sterbenz, Charles Larson, William Meyer, Frank Paglus, Lester Nelson, Jack Stieber, Charles Jorgensen, Robert Story, John Horton, Arnold Koenig, Jerry Rockow, Ernest Westlund, John Horan, Raymond Horan, Art Dalziel, and Fred Hawkins, Sr.

The paneling and painting completed the project begun over a year ago with the hanging of a new lantern in the nave of the church, the purchase of a new red brocade dossal curtain behind the altar, the addition of a new memorial crucifix on the tabernacle, and the hanging of a Christus Rex from the ceiling of the nave which marks the division between the nave, choir, and sanctuary.

Burning Leaf Smoke Concealed Flames of Garage at Lake Marie

A garage was nearly destroyed by fire at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday at the A. I. Stephens property in the Beach Grove area of Lake Marie.

Notified of the blaze by radio while they were fighting a grass fire in Rosing's subdivision south of Antioch, some of the local firemen rushed to the scene of the second blaze and found smoke so thick from burning leaves that they parked the fire truck within 50 feet of a garage and were fighting the burning leaves at the steps of the summer cottage when the smoke cleared and Chief Edgar Simonsen discovered the garage in flames.

Two nearby garages, the ownership of which is unknown to the firemen, were scorched.

The fire is believed to have started south of the garage in the direction of the Mehring resort. There was a thick bed of grass and leaves and this produced dense smoke.

Chief Simonsen said that the garage was one of the older type but to replace it would cost approximately $1,000. The other garages that were damaged had a value twice that amount.

Opposite Verdicts Given By Juries in Jr. Class Play Friday, Saturday

She was defended by Dave Valkenaar.

A reverse verdict was given at Saturday night's performance as James Berke won his case against her in his role as district attorney. In both instances Royal Rockow, as judge, stated his disagreement with the jurors who were seated upon the stage.

A court atmosphere prevailed as ushers dressed in police uniforms seated the audience and much of the action originated from the spectator area.

Big, wide, bulky cars like this are typical of American design. But, to get room inside, they are too big outside for today's traffic, too wasteful of gasoline.

Small, light cars like this are typical of European design. They are economical and easy to handle in traffic, but they don't have the room most American families want.

Guess who needs an automatic Dryer—and why should it be Electric?

The Electric dryer is fully automatic, fume-free, fast and thrifty!

Poor father! If they had an electric dryer he'd have a dozen clean, dry diapers by now. Baby-soft, clean-smelling—the way they always dry in an electric.

Nearest thing there is to sunshine. Electric heat is clean, dry, radiant heat. Fume-free. So everything you dry electrically comes out smelling sweet as clover.

Electric dryers are all fully automatic, and just 6¢ worth of electricity will dry a big load.

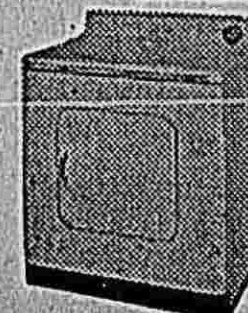

Take a look at the new electric dryers soon. You'll notice that all the "no-vent" dryers are electric. (So your laundry area stays clean, dry and comfortable.) Are you listening, father?

Big Saving—ask your dealer about our Share-the-Cost Installation Plan. It's the low-cost way to get the modern 100-amp home wiring you need for today's electric living appliances.

If you own an electric range, you save up to $25 on a new dryer! In fact if you have any 240-volt appliance your home probably has modern wiring already. This means the complete, installed price of your new electric dryer will be less than any other kind.

The music theory class of Antioch Township High school taught by Louis Chenette went to Chicago Friday and witnessed the afternoon performance of the Chicago Symphony orchestra at Orchestra hall.

They attended an evening concert in the Chicago stadium featuring the Carabinieri band of Rome.

Students making the trip were Bill Henriksen, Dwight Stone, Celia Hojem, Tammie Cary, Carol Heath, Diane Domek and Mary Brehen. Kenneth Smouse, vocal music instructor, accompanied Chenette and his students.

Varsity cheerleaders Janet Rogers, Marlys Miller, Mary Shepard, Mary Forbrich, Judy Horton and Rose Ellen Furlan with junior varsity cheerleader Elaine Christensen and Miss Mary Donovan, varsity sponsor spent the first week-end of November at Illinois State Normal University's Cheerleading Clinic.

The girls were entertained by a number of Antioch alumni attending the school and participated with 1,400 cheerleaders in a "Hello Dads" at the football game before returning.

Waukegan Township High School Cheering clinic on Saturday was attended by Junior-Varsity leaders Charlene Keulman, Kathy Sershon, Judy Maleck, Sharon Gibbs and Elaine Christensen. They were accompanied by Mrs. Karen Baird and Miss Donovan, teachers.

Miss Kathleen Barkman returned recently from the Illinois homemaker Teachers Convention at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel in Springfield.

Finds Campaign Poster
Flown from Aurora, Ill.
While Pheasant Hunting

Henry Pape, Republican precinct committeeman for Antioch Precinct 5 was pheasant hunting on the Anderson farm in the extreme northwest corner of Lake county at 11 a. m. Tuesday when he noticed a poster in some weeds.

He found it attached to a bursted balloon of the type used to test weather. Examination showed the poster to be one of Governor Stratton's campaign advertisements carrying the names of a number of Aurora, Ill., men, among them the assessor of that county.

Pape returned the balloon and poster to the senders as requested.

To complete the day, Pape got two pheasants.

Temperatures Arose to 68

The mercury got up to 68 in Antioch yesterday which was unusually high for this time of year. The temperature on Nov. 3 was 67, but yesterday's temperature was even higher, according to Cooperative Observer Roy Kufalk. The weather continues dry, only .35 inch of rain having fallen during the month up until 6 p. m. yesterday. Some much needed rain has fallen since then.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

A recent survey disclosed the alarming fact that one of the main causes of accidents during a half-year period on the Illinois rural primary highway system was the neglect by motorists to simply heed the rules of the road.

Statistics also show that mechanical defect, puncture or blowout resulted in an amazingly low number of accidents. Some astute observers point out that the present day motorist has educated himself to keep his vehicle—from engine to tires—in good condition so that such ridiculous accidents do not occur.

These same figures also disclose that the two high apparent causes of accidents were the disregard of signals and the failure to have the right of way. It is almost inconceivable that some motorists will not conclude that signs and signals are placed at designated spots for safety's sake and for no other reason, and that no vehicle should proceed without the right of way.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Auto Smashed Against Tree, Driver Killed

This is the automobile in which Ralph R. Roger, formerly of Channel Lake lost his life Monday afternoon on Loon Lake road near Millburn. The Antioch Rescue squad had to send back for a second truck which contained equipment by which Mr. Roger could be removed from under the smashed top.

Trumpet Trio on High School Program

Chocolate Changes Pudding Into Glamour Dessert

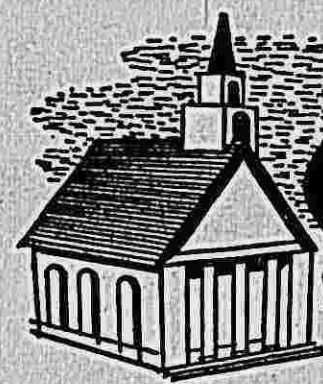

When you get to those last few slices in a loaf of bread, don't throw them away just because they're not really fresh. Dress them up with semi-sweet chocolate, in this old-fashioned dessert gone festive. Easy to use, the little chocolate morsels that come in a 6-ounce package or in the new jumbo 12 oz. bag, are melted to flavor the bread pudding itself, and used whole in the meringue topping the dish. Semi-sweet chocolate morsels are the very same chocolate used to make the original Chocolate Chip Cookies, as invented at the Toll House Inn in Whitman, Mass.

Chocolate Bread Pudding

1 1/4 cups soft bread crumbs	2 cups milk
1 6 oz. package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels	2 eggs, separated
1/2 cup sugar	1/2 tablespoon butter
	1/4 teaspoon salt
	1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Combine bread crumbs, 1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels, 1/4 cup sugar and 1 1/2 cups milk in top of double boiler. Cook over hot water until mixture is smooth. Beat egg yolks slightly, add remaining 1/2 cup milk, butter and salt. Add to chocolate mixture and continue cooking about 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Turn into shallow baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 10 minutes. While pudding is baking, beat egg whites until stiff; gradually add remaining 1/4 cup sugar and vanilla; continue beating until very stiff. Fold in half the remaining chocolate. Drop by tablespoons on top of the pudding. Sprinkle meringue with remaining chocolate. Return to oven and bake 10 minutes longer.

YIELD: 6 servings.

Do you fit this description of "Mr. Average Midwest Hotel Guest"? Recent survey reveals he's a 35-year-old businessman, attending a conference or convention. He carries a two-suitcase suitcase and a briefcase; travels approximately 500 miles to reach his hotel; and arrives on Monday and checks out on Thursday.

Add to your list of most eye-catching hotel suites: The Lenthier Suite at The Hotel Nicolet in Minneapolis. The unique suite has floors and walls of leather, all leather furniture and a huge Swedish hearth that permits "in-the-room" broiling for special parties.

For that late vacation you're planning, consider Illinois. Until late November, this breadbasket of the Midwest offers you the full beauty of its 64 state parks and the glory of the land that was Lincoln's. Spend at least a full day at Springfield, the state capital, where there are numerous sites associated with the Civil War President. Ten good hotels and 23 motels are ready to serve you in that area.

If you'd like to enjoy Italian cookery at its finest, stop in at the intimate Pompeian Room at the Congress Hotel (one of the 22 Pick hotels) the next time you visit Chicago. There, Chef Amato Ferrero, who learned the art of Italian cookery at Naples' famed Hotel Dora, will offer you such succulent dishes as Fritto Misto a la Milanese. What's more, he'll be happy to give you his recipes.

Motorist friend of ours claims he's found the ultimate in motel luxury. The place: Edge O'Town on Highway 20, a quarter mile east of Rockford, Ill. Seems every air-conditioned room has wall to wall carpeting, a separate dressing room, circulating ice water—and a combination radio and TV set!

Mile after mile of driving a car on the super highways and parkways, can easily lull a person into a sleepy or drowsy feeling. Driving when you are tired can be dangerous too. If you feel only slightly sleepy, open the windows, turn the car radio up loud, sing or make up a game to play which requires conscious effort. If you are very sleepy, pull completely off the road and take a nap.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Two factors in motor vehicle accidents overlooked by a great many persons are the mental attitude and the loss of temper of the motorist. In the field of safe driving these come under the heading of "unknown quantities."

There is no measurement available to determine the number of accidents, deaths and injuries caused by motorists who do not have the proper mental attitude when behind a steering wheel or who lose their temper while driving. Police reports can only give known facts or facts obtainable at the scene of an accident. Few—if any—drivers will admit that an accident was the result of the loss of temper or the wrong attitude.

Some motorists have a tendency to lose their tempers when they find themselves in a long line of cars on a two lane road or when waiting for a long freight train to pass a crossing.

An example of a driver with the wrong attitude is one who will hog the center line so that other vehicles are unable to pass him.

These two factors do not appear in the statistics showing the causes of accidents, but they are responsible for a good number of our highway accidents, deaths and injuries.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to: CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

OUT ON A LIMB

By Stumpy McCulloch

"I proposed to that girl," Ol' George was sayin' the other day, "and I'd have married her—if it hadn't been for something she said."

"What did she say?" I asked.

"No!"

Today I was readin' that some feller with a slide rule had come up with some surprising statistics: the average working man in this country has about 3000 free waking hours—or the equivalent of 14 two-week vacations—a year! That's a lot of free time!

Most of us farmers don't have so much time to spare, of course. But personally, I find I'm not too busy during the winter. And, like lots of fellers, I use some of my extra time in winter to harvest trees from my tree farm! That's a big advantage in raising trees as a crop: you can harvest them when you want to.

The tree farm system, you know, is a movement of landowners—large and small—to grow trees according to the principles of good forestry and good conservation. If a feller owns a few acres of trees, and wants to raise them as a crop, it'll pay him to have his wood lot certified as a tree farm. For one thing, he'll get an inspection by a professional forester, including advice on growing trees and how to avoid such tree-killers as disease and fire. He'll also have a chance to get information on lumber markets in his area. And, generally, he'll find it's easier to secure a bank loan on his wood lot if it's registered as a tree farm—'cause that shows he's managing his land right!

By the way, did you know that the average American and Canadian uses 800 pounds of wood a year—compared with 250 pounds for the average feller in Europe, and 125 in Africa? That's a fact!

And this may interest you too: Every year, forest fires burn enough wood to make the paper for every daily newspaper published in this whole country! That's a lot of wood, and a mighty big waste! This is the worst time of the year for fire, you know—so take care of those cigarettes and campfires!

"Do you believe kissin' is unhealthy?" Young Zeke asked his gal friend.

"I couldn't say," she said, "I've never..."

"Been kissed?" gasped Zeke.

"Been sick," said she.

So long, fellers!

New Radar Speed Meter

CHICAGO—Because excessive speed is the chief cause of automobile fatalities, law enforcement authorities are using more and more speed control devices to check on motorists near schools, community boundaries and busy intersections. Latest device to be produced is a new radar speed meter that does everything but chase violators and write tickets. Developed by Admiral Corporation, the compact 26-pound unit, shown above, will register the speed of all cars or, if desired, only those exceeding the speed limit. It can be set to "hold" the reading up to two minutes, eliminating the need for the officer to keep his eyes glued to the meter. A description of the car, license number, date and time of violation can be recorded on an optional tape recorder, as Officer John Sweeney of the Chicago Park District Police is doing above. According to officials, the mere presence of "Radar Patrolled" signs in a community causes the average motorist to reduce speed as much as 10 miles per hour. Forty seven of 48 states now using speed radar units report a decrease in fatal accidents in the area of use.

HOW TO REDUCE THE CHANCES OF BEING STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

During a lightning storm it is wise to stay indoors or seek shelter in a substantial building or in your car if it has a closed all-metal body. If out in open country where no buildings or thickly wooded groves can be quickly reached, lie flat on the ground. Never stand under a single isolated tree or, near a wire fence. If in swimming or an open boat, get to land as quickly as possible.

Motorists Must Always Keep Mind on Driving

It takes only a fraction of a second to have an auto accident if your mind and eyes are not on the road ahead.

This warning comes from Arthur S. Johnson, Director of the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, who emphasizes that driving is a full time job. "In one brief second your car can travel from safety under control to an accident out of control if your attention is diverted elsewhere," he stated.

The average driver has difficulty in measuring the length of a second when translated into terms of speed and distance. But, Mr. Johnson pointed out, at 60 miles an hour an automobile travels 88 feet in one second. At today's speeds in today's fast cars, can any driver afford to let his car drive itself for that distance?

The accident possibilities become very clear when arithmetic again shows that two cars approaching each other at 60 miles per hour will, from the time that they are ten car lengths apart, either pass safely or collide within only one second of time. There is no time for decision in that interval.

The days of casual and pleasure driving are just about over, Johnson declared, and the sooner we realize how dangerous it is to divide our attention between driving a car and looking at scenery, tuning the radio or looking at a road map, the safer our highways will be.

There seems to be countless ways that drivers manage to divert their attention from their driving. Basically the reasons for doing these dangerous things are five:

Greater comfort—reaching over to adjust a window, battling with a bee inside the car, operating electric shaver, putting on sun glasses, putting on or taking off your gloves, slipping in or out of coat.

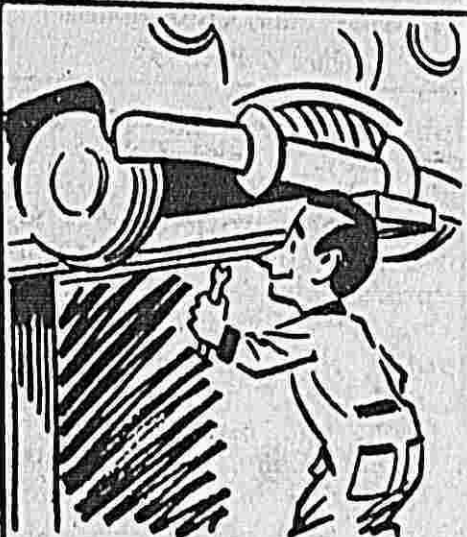

Double checking details—looking for something in the glove compartment, reaching for something in the back seat, winding dashboard clock, checking road map, worrying about roof-top loading, fretting about engine noises, looking for street signs and house numbers.

"Safety"—cleaning inside windshield without stopping, adjusting rearview mirror, reaching over to close door, holding junior onto seat, watching in the rearview mirror.

Entertainment—tuning the car radio, taking in scenery, amusing the children.

Personal pleasure—lighting a cigarette, eating sandwiches, candy bars, popcorn eating, one-arm driving.

GET A CAR CHECKUP BEFORE TAKING A HOLIDAY TRIP

Many will be on the road real soon with cars, heading for, or returning from a holiday. Be as sure as you can that your car is safe for driving. Before the trip, get a car checkup by a reliable service station or garage with particular attention given to steering mechanism, brakes and tires. During your trip watch your tires for proper inflation pressure.

Pedestrian's Carelessness Often Cause of Accidents

Most of the 6000 adult pedestrians killed on the highways last year were more the victims of their own childish antics afoot than the automobile which struck them down, according to the public education department of the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company.

In "Pedestrians, Grow Up and Live," a new Aetna pamphlet, the company's safety specialists liken the grown-up jaywalker to the child who plays hopscotch in the street. "Many dangerous walking habits reflect childish impulses we have never shed," they say.

Publication of the new safety booklet, which is being distributed by Aetna as a part of its public safety program, coincides with the onset of winter's shorter days, the peak period for pedestrian fatalities.

Among dangerous walking habits which show a "juvenile attitude toward safety" are crossing against the light, arguing over the right of way, ignoring pedestrian safety areas, stepping from an automobile into traffic, and not paying attention when crossing the street. There is no better insurance for growing old than growing up, the pamphlet concludes.

WANT THE TRUTH?

Up to 6,000 traffic-accident deaths this year won't be "accidents" at all!

Forty thousand Americans will die in traffic accidents this year, according to the present mounting rate. And nearly six thousand of those deaths will be crimes—because of driver negligence—according to the FBI!

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP
STOP THESE TRAGEDIES

1. Drive safely and courteously yourself. Observe speed limits and warning signs. Where drivers are careful and obey the law, deaths go DOWN!
2. Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws! Wherever traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

First Snow Fall Will Bring Danger to Children

Before the first snowfall arrives, parents should admonish their children of the dangers of sledding on busy streets, says Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

Excited with the advent of the first snow, children will act impulsively when sledding, Hayes said, adding:

"A boy or girl on a sled is a greater hazard and a more vulnerable target than a pedestrian because it is not easy for a motorist to see a sled coming toward his vehicle. Secondly, the elements make it difficult for a driver to stop his car once he does see the sledding youngster, who is nothing more than a pedestrian on a pair of runners." Parents should strongly urge their children to frequent park areas or yards where they won't encounter vehicular traffic, Hayes said.

Hitching sleds to the rear of autos, trucks and busses is another dangerous practice and can result in permanent injuries or death, the Motor Club president declared.

Sometimes there is enough ice on the streets for skating, but don't do it. Rinks and supervised areas are the safest places for such sport. Children are often wobbly on skates and can easily fall under a car.

Snow fights are fun, Hayes said, but in the excitement of throwing and ducking, it is easy to run into traffic. Furthermore, a hard snowball can cause painful and permanent injury.

Parents cannot warn their children too often of the dangers which accompany snow and ice, Hayes concluded.

SAFE PLAY FOR YOUNGSTERS

Child accidents occur in the U. S. at the rate of one every twenty seconds.

See to it that your children:

1. Have safe play equipment (eliminate sharp edged or broken ragged-edge toys in the sandbox; repair that swing with the weakened rope that's about to break; that tricycle with loose handle bars.)
2. Have a safe area for play, away from the street and preferably, enclosed.
3. Are properly supervised (so children do not throw sand, hit with sticks, run in the road, wander off away from home and familiar surroundings.)

What puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of FORD?

Here's what puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of Ford!

It's the sculptured look. You'll see it the moment you let your eyes wander over this fine car. In a '57 Ford you belong . . . anywhere. It's the long, lean lines. There's a grayhound grace to the new Ford. No useless "fat," no showy "padding." Ford is as trim as a jet fighter.

It's the hardtop styling. Fairlane sedans have the hardtop look of Victorias! Superthin center pillars are smartly concealed to give hardtop beauty when doors are closed.

It's the freedom of choice. Colors? Fabrics? Accessories? Far more! Ford gives you a choice of two new, bigger sizes . . . longer, lower, roomier!

It's the ride that stays gentle. With a new frame that rides sweeter and lower, new springs, new suspension all around, even the roughest roads can't ruffle the poise of the new Ford.

It's the Thunderbird power. Ford celebrates its Silver Anniversary of V-8 leadership with the biggest selection of V-8's in Ford history.

In addition to all this Thunderbird GO, there's a new and more powerful Mileage Maker Six.

"Six or V-8, the going is great!"

Just looking at this Fairlane Club Sedan is a special kind of fun!

It's the record-breaking performance. On the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah, a '57 Ford traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days . . . an average speed of 108.16 mph, including all pit stops! Another Ford averaged over 107 mph. Altogether, 458 national and international performance records were smashed as Ford rewrote the record book.

It's the big dollar value that lasts and lasts. Styled for tomorrow, a new Ford keeps its value longer. And wonder of wonders, all this extra strength, extra beauty, extra length is yours at low Ford prices!

*Included is a special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 delivering up to 285 hp.

Wise men say:
"Don't wait for TOMORROW
when you can get it today!"

Postmaster Gives Tips for Speedier Christmas Delivery

Postal patrons this coming Christmas season can speed the processing and assure quicker delivery of their Christmas parcels and cards by availing themselves of various postal services and free postal information pamphlets, Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk announced today.

The services mentioned include:

1. This year, for the first time, sealed parcels may be mailed at the third- or fourth-class postage rates without labels, notations, endorsements, or hieroglyphics of any kind authorizing the opening of the parcels for postal inspection. Packages sealed with modern sealing materials or even with just plain Christmas seals should carry better in the mail than unsealed ones. Strong cord should also be used.

2. Combination Mail, which was used for the first time during last Christmas season, and which permits a mailer to enclose a letter or message inside a gift parcel and pay the appropriate postage on it plus the postage for the package itself.

3. Certified Mail, also used for the first time in the 1955 season, which permits mailers to have proof of delivery of Christmas letters, cards or parcels having no intrinsic value for a postal fee of 15 cents plus first class postage.

4. Registered mail which provides greater security protection to letters and parcels carrying items of real financial value.

5. Special Delivery mail which is given immediate delivery at the office of address during prescribed hours.

6. Airmail and air parcel post which provides quick delivery of cards and parcels to all sections of the country.

The free postal pamphlets—available at all post offices—are entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing" and "Domestic Postage Rates and Fees." Used together, these pamphlets should answer practically all questions any Christmas mailer might have on fees, rates, special services and protection of Christmas parcels in transit.

Kufalk emphasized the importance of separating local and out-of-town mail. Free labels for that purpose are available at Antioch post office.

World's Best-Fed Nation Could Do Better, Says Dr. Parran

UNIVERSITY PARK, PA.—Average nutrition, even in the world's best-fed nation, the U.S.A., is not good enough, said a former Surgeon General of the U.S. Public Health Service. We should strive for the optimum in nutrition, he said, through an aggressive, positive, direct campaign of education.

The speaker, Dr. Thomas Parran, urged his audience of agricultural writers to educate their readers in health as well as in farming methods. He was the guest speaker at a recent luncheon, during the 40th annual convention of the American Association of Agricultural College Editors, held at University Park. More than 300 guests attended.

Dr. Parran, who held the nation's top medical post from 1936 to 1948, was presented by the Consumer Service Department of the American Institute of Baking, Chicago, which sponsored the luncheon. The event was one of several special observances marking the fifteenth anniversary of the enrichment of bread with vitamins and minerals.

Dr. Parran was instrumental in the adoption of bread and flour enrichment, and he told his listeners some of the history of the program and the reasons for its adoption. He and Dr. M. L. Wilson, then of the Department of Agriculture, were members of a government Nutrition Committee formed to suggest ways in which the American populace could attain a better physical condition as part of the national defense effort. The two called a meeting in 1941 of bakers, millers, nutrition scientists, and government officials, at which the groundwork was laid for getting a voluntary enrichment program underway.

"During the 15 years which have elapsed since 1941 a tremendous change has occurred in the health status of our people," Dr. Parran said. "In particular, such nutritional deficiency diseases as beriberi and pellagra have almost disappeared." These diseases resulted from insufficient B vitamins (now added to enriched bread) in the diet.

However, Dr. Parran said, much of our current knowledge of nutrition has not been put to work. There is clear evidence of the effect of food intake on mood and morale, ability to bear children, formation of such defects as cleft palate, and a long list of "degenerative" diseases of the heart, arteries, kidneys, liver, teeth and glands.

This year is also the anniversary of the discovery of a way to make vitamin B<sub>12</sub> in quantity at low cost. The discovery was made by Dr. R. R. Williams, then of Columbia University, in 1936. Bread and flour enrichment would not have been possible if this vitamin had not been available in synthetic form. Dr. Parran praised Dr. Williams for his devotion to human welfare in seeking the identity of the vitamin and in promoting its use for good health.

Christmas Seals Put In Mail This Week

More than 50,000 envelopes containing 1956 Christmas Seals were delivered to the Waukegan Post Office by the Lake County Tuberculosis Association, 813 West Washington Street.

Praise for Christmas Seal volunteers who have labored for weeks to prepare thousands of letters for mailing to county residents was expressed today by Marshall E. Schroeder, president of the Lake County Tuberculosis Association.

The success of the Seal Sale depends a great deal on the work of the volunteers who this year numbered 165 individuals from 14 organizations as follows: OES Guild Waukegan, Pro-So-Sorority, SOS First Christian Church, Am Vets Auxiliary, Woman's Club of Waukegan, Jay-Cees, Doctor's Assistant Association, Women of the Presbyterian Church, Ladies of the Fleet Reserve, Women's Relief Corps, Salon 191 8 & 40, Grandmothers Club, Ladies of St. John's E. & R. Church, Rabekahs and the Easter Chapter OES of North Chicago.

Home delivery of the Seals Wednesday will be the signal for the nation wide opening of the annual tuberculosis fund campaign.
